Portland's mayor and Oregon's governor have been deplorable in the ongoing crisis gripping the city. The chaos continues nightly. If they can't control their streets and keep their citizens safe from agitators and anarchists, then call in the National Guard. This has to stop now.

I am absolutely no fan of Piers Corbyn, but enlighten me - how can it be that he is fined £10k for a peaceful demo, while for months there have been huge marches resulting in criminal damage and violence and the police simply shrugged?

How impartial is the law, exactly?

I thought I'd describe something that's just happened in our local high street. My wife and I had just finished our walk and were heading home. We saw this little old lady (must have been in her 80s) obviously struggling with her shopping and could barely breathe with her mask on so I stopped and asked if she needed help. I double and triple checked with her that she was OK with me handling her shopping so I carried it to the bus stop for her. My wife offered to walk with her at the same time and bless her, she linked arms with my wife.

All she did the entire time was thank us for helping her and kept asking if it was OK if she took her mask off. My wife said: "You can do whatever you feel comfortable with my dear. You don't have to wear it but you can if you want"

When we sat her down at the bus stop she held both our hands and said thank you ever so much. Her bus wasn't for ages so my wife has gone back down in the car to give her a lift home.

As we were walking away I actually started welling up because throughout the entire interaction, all I kept thinking was "Can I handle her shopping and getting too close, is she going to feel uncomfortable?" When she grabbed our hands to say thank you, that's what finally set me off.

All I kept thinking was, what the hell have we done to our country. Is this social damage irreversible? I hope not.

This isn't a parody, it's the @NYTimes running interference for Biden. In their alternate universe, the radical Left rioters burning down cities and literally executing people on the street aren't the problem--it's conservatives, & also law enforcement trying to restore order.

People are just not going to go out and businesses will collapse. The economy is being devastated. This is the world they've created, with near total compliance.

My experience today will illustrate this. I went into two Wetherspoons pubs in the same city. In the first new signs said that track and trace forms must be handed to staff, but nobody that I saw was asked for one, and I bought two rounds of drinks and lunch without being challenged. Good for them. In the second, where I simply wanted a drink, I was first of all told off for not standing in quite the right place whilst waiting to order (having in fact moved off the right place at the request of a waitress carrying trays of hot food). Then, I was told by the heavily masked man behind the bar that I needed a table number simply in order to buy a drink. This was a classic piece of jobsworthiness, since nobody was checking and the drinks were still handed to the customer at the bar, so if I'd simply plucked a number out of thin air instead of querying it, I'd have got my drink. Needless to say, I made my excuses and left.

One of the sad things about the current situation is that it has taken all of the joy out of eating or drinking out (and shopping). Not knowing what the rules will be before you step into a place makes it simpler and less stressful simply not to bother. Previously, Wetherspoons was an exception to that bleak outlook. Now, not so much.

Absolutely correct decision by Trump.

By regurgitating Chinese propaganda, downplaying the coronavirus threat, and telling countries not to enact border controls, the WHO's malfeasance has cost countless lives.

Utter lunacy.

California Plans a Return to Normal Never

A reader has sent us the Governor of California's guidance for lifting COVID-19 restrictions. Depressing stuff.

WIDESPREAD Most non-essential indoor business operations are closed	More than 7 Daily new cases (per 100k)	More than 8% Positive tests
SUBSTANTIAL Some non-essential indoor business operations are closed	4-7 Daily new cases (per 100k)	5-8% Positive tests
MODERATE Some business operations are open with modifications.	1-3.9 Daily new cases (per 100k)	2-4.9% Positive tests
Most business operations are open with modifications.	Less than 1 Daily new cases (per 100k)	Less than 2% Positive tests

Tom Woods @tomwoods

This means no return to normal, ever. Given the problem of false positives alone, how can these numbers ever be reached. A member of the Tom Woods Show Elite pointed out some pertinent facts here. Since 42 of the 58 California counties have fewer than 500K people, a mere five cases per day will keep restrictions in place. Some 23 counties will be forced to keep some restrictions in place with just one case per day. These guidelines are being released at the very moment that hospitalizations are plummeting — but hospital capacity no longer guides state policy, even though that was the original pretext behind the initial "flattening the curve" propaganda.

The woman who was encircled and screamed at by an angry Black Lives Matter mob outside a restaurant in DC for refusing to raise her fist has slammed the group's "bullying" tactics in a Washington Post op-ed.

Black Lives Matter and Maoist Red Guards have an awful lot in common.

Wonder why?

On that Atlantic Story -

@JeffreyGoldberg and his "four sources" claim Trump's helicopter flight to the US/French cemetery wasn't cancelled due to weather.

FOIA docs prove this to be false.

Their "sources" are failing basic fact checks - making them essentially worthless.

I'm feeling pretty choked right now

What kind of country takes the knee to [redacted] - a ragbag of anti-British revolutionaries who want to actively abolish the police - then puts the boot into its veterans, who fought for their flag?

WTF is happening to Britain? 😢

Can you imagine how the crowd, the media & MPs would react if police treated an or protestor like they did this military veteran today?

He was literally standing there, doing nothing, with his back to them!

GDC Statement on Recent Visits to Defendants by the FBI

September 4, 2020 GDC Admin

We have confirmed reports of the Federal Bureau of Investigation visiting people's homes in the last week or so. The vast majority of some of these visits is to those people with state charges, whether if they have evidence you might actually know something. The FBI uses the tactic of getting people to lie as a way to pressure them to turn on their comrades and talk.

- If federal agents come to your door with a legitimate arrest warrant, you may want to step outside your door as quickly as possible and lock your house behind you. If the cops come inside and see you, they can (and will) search the house.
- If law enforcement has a search warrant, read the warrant and take a photograph of it before letting them in (they can put it under the door or put it against the window and ask

YouTube is now banning videos where YouTubers talk about Patreon. This guy's entire channel was deleted.

Hi Squatting Slav TV

As you may know, our Community Guidelines describe which content we allow – and don't allow – on YouTube. Your video "Squatting Slav TV on Patreon/Other Links in Description," was flagged for review. Upon review, we've determined that it violates our guidelines. We've removed it from YouTube and assigned a Community Guidelines strike to your account.

Video content restrictions

We are constantly working to keep YouTube free of spam. It's not okay to post large amounts of untargeted, unwanted or repetitive videos. In addition, if the main purpose of your content is to drive people off of YouTube and onto another site, it will likely violate our spam policies. Learn more here.

The impact of strikes

This is the third Community Guidelines strike your account has received within three months. Because of that, your account has now been terminated and you won't be able to access or create any other YouTube accounts.

For more information about account terminations, please visit our Help Center. If you feel that your account was suspended in error, you may appeal the suspension. In your appeal, be sure to:

- Read our policies and features. Please take a few minutes to familiarize yourself with our policies.

Sincerely,
The YouTube Team

A legal immigrant to the UK opened the first fish and chip shop nearly 200 years ago.

This obviously means that mass illegal immigration is good and we should totally erase all border controls.

Why we're using 'womxn'

No, that's not a typo: 'womxn' is a spelling of 'women' that's more inclusive and progressive. The term sheds light on the prejudice, discrimination, and institutional barriers womxn have faced, and explicitly includes non-cisgender women.

American Airlines asking employees to wear Black Lives Matter badges.

Ludicrously claims Black Lives Matter isn't political.

It's a violent revolutionary extremist Marxist political movement.

Absurd.

There's never been a movement MORE political.

Let's not be naive enough to pretend that the British media (Sky, BBC, ITN) haven't been actively lobbying for a second lockdown by means of their relentless, night after night hysteria over confirmed cases.

Almost completely ignoring the key numbers - hospitalizations & deaths.

If we just banned all vehicles, we'd save 1.35 million lives globally every year.

Anyone who doesn't want to do this is heartless, callous and wants to "kill granny."

They encouraged Americans to attend Chinese new year parties so as not to be seen as racist.

Parents Guide: Cuties (2020)

Sex & Nudity (4)

Severe

Parental Warning: During one of the many highly sexualized & erotic dance scenes that purposefully exploit & objectify numerous scantly clad underage girls, one of the female child dancers lifts up her cropped top to fully display her bare breast. This is lawfully defined as pedophilia and can be extremely distressing to many viewers.

Trigger Warning: An 11 year old girl watches a female rap music video where naked women role play through dance both heterosexual & lesbian sex acts. An 11 year old female dance group then mimics these sexual moves via on themselves and on each other while the camera zooms in on 'Cuties' is a product of moral relativism.

When you don't have to maintain any standards of morality, anything goes. Literally anything.

This is why the left/media/entertainment industry is constantly either tolerating or outright promoting noncery.

What's interesting about this is that from the clips I've seen, aside from the vile sexualization, the movie is just a badly dubbed cringe fest.

They gave it a high score for a reason other than the fact that it's a good movie, because it objectively isn't.

What is that reason?

Making a movie that actually exposes and criticizes the sexual exploitation of children is a great idea. But there is obviously no reason why that movie must include crotch shots of barely clothes 11-year-olds. This should not need to be explained.

For those claiming that the filmmakers did "nothing illegal," the law & case law is crystal clear here. The filmmakers & Netflix have violated Title 18, section 2256. The Fifth Circuit created the "Dost test," a 6-factor test to determine if images are child porn. Here they are:

"Cuties" defenders say we need to watch the whole movie to get the context. Um, no. There is absolutely no context at all, ever, that could vindicate scenes where 11-year-olds simulate sex acts.

Using real child sexualisation to "warn of the dangers of child sexualisation" is like actually killing people in a war movie to warn of the dangers of war.

Absurd argument.

In 2019 in the U.S., more whites than blacks were killed by police, despite blacks being significantly more likely to be armed.

The entire premise of this charade is completely fraudulent.

The whole team behind Cuties needs to be investigated. Look what I found. As a director I call tell you it's not normal to audition 700 little girls with no acting experience. What were they told to do during auditions? They preyed on inexperienced people starstruck by Hollywood.

How did you cast the 11-year-old female lead, Fathia Youssouf Abdillahi?

The casting process was a saga. We spent over six months and saw 650 candidates and it was only in the very last hour of the last day that we found Fathia. It was a really emotional moment.

How did Maimouna work with the young cast?

She already worked with a young cast in "Maimouna!" It s amaz ng t watch. She works at the same level as the kids. She has a deep and intimate re at onsh p w th them. She acts with them. She cr es and they cry. There's a magical l nk and a deep sense of trust.

UK media reporting that coronavirus cases are "surging".

1.3 million coronavirus tests in the UK in the past week alone, compared to just 95,188 in the first week of April.

Why do you think there are more cases?

And why does media ignore low death & hospitalisation figures?

The argument being made here, is would a movie about the torture of animals being bad be ok if they ripped apart live animals onscreen for the purpose of demonstrating that it's bad?

Anyone who defended 'Cuties' needs to get their hard drive scanned for noncery.

But we know this won't happen, because nonces rule the world.

If you're literally defending pedophilia, chances are you're a baddie.
Just a fucking thought.

Cannot believe that the left is so morally fucking bankrupt, that a literal pedo film is released and they're all like, "well hang on, let's have some nuance."

Fuck off.

Imagine defending the horrific abuse of children because you think it will get you ahead in life.

Even if only 5% of you believes in religion, your eternal future is a burning pit in hell.

I cannot even get into the mindset of any fucking worm who would consider that.

In 2019 in the U.S., more whites than blacks were killed by police, despite blacks being significantly more likely to be armed.

The entire premise of this charade is completely fraudulent.

Following @netflix's disturbing promotion of "Cuties," I sent a letter calling on @TheJusticeDept to investigate whether Netflix, its executives, or the filmmakers violated any federal laws against the production and distribution of child pornography.

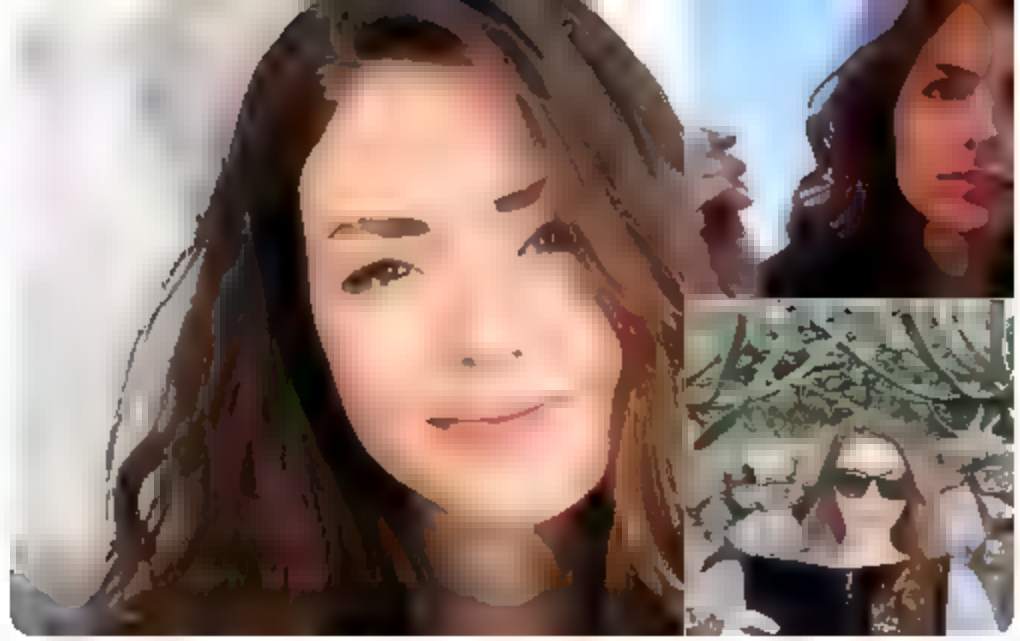
The Honorable William P. Barr
Attorney General of the United States
Department of Justice
Washington, D.C.

Dear Attorney General Barr

The video streaming service and content-producer Netflix is currently hosting a film entitled "Cuties" that sexualizes young girls, including through dance scenes that simulate sexual activities and a scene exposing a minor's bare breast. I urge the Department of Justice to investigate the production and distribution of this film to determine whether Netflix, its executives, or the individuals involved in the filming and production of "Cuties" violated any federal laws against the production and distribution of child pornography.

Two days ago, Netflix released "Cuties" to its subscribers in the United States. The film, directed by a French director, is ostensibly about an 11-year-old girl in Paris who becomes a member of a provocative dance group with other similarly-aged girls. The film reportedly fetishizes and sexualizes these pre-adolescent girls as they perform dances simulating sexual conduct in revealing clothing, including at least one scene with partial child nudity. These scenes in and of themselves are harmful. And it is likely that the filming of this movie created even more explicit and abusive scenes, and that pedophiles across the world in the future will manipulate and imitate this film in abusive ways.

As you know, the Department of Justice has a significant role in preventing the sexual abuse of children. The Department enforces federal criminal law making it a serious crime to produce or distribute material involving the sexual exploitation of minors, including the filming of minors engaging in sexually explicit conduct (see e.g., 18 U.S.C. §§ 2251 - 2252). By investigating and prosecuting offenders who possess and distribute images and video sexually depicting minors, the Department both obtains justice for those who have been abused and helps protect children from future sexual abuse and exploitation.



Although the First Amendment provides vigorous protection for artistic expression, it does not allow individuals or for-profit corporations to produce or distribute child pornography. Accordingly, I urge the Department to investigate the production of "Cuties" and Netflix's distribution of the film in order to determine whether Netflix, any of its executives, or anyone involved with the making of "Cuties" violated any federal laws against the production and

A new poll has revealed that the vast majority of people in Britain are happy for the government mandated lockdown to continue, with just 4 percent expressing a desire to see it lifted immediately.

Moving the goalposts.

From needing to protect "our NHS" (which is actually Big Brother's NHS) from being overwhelmed we went to needing to protect ourselves against a new surge of infections brought in from other countries (ruining summer hols for many), and now as testing bevomes more widespread, more "cases" are used to scare us - which are not cases at all but positive results in healthy people with PCR testing. This finds a genetic needle in a haystack, quite possibly a signal from a previous infection with another of the 100 or so coronaviruses out there. And they have spent billions on lockdowns of proven uselessness. And millions on buying up a vaccine that doesn't yet even exist. And yet papers like the Mirror, Guardian, Indie, etc, are baying for still more interference, including Stalinesque "snitching" on neighbours who break the entirely non evidence-based instructions. Wow! National debt now over two trillion pounds

Spotify employee here. Our New York office is in full uproar against Joe Rogan. The New York office handles most of the media and the Stockholm office handles most of the tech. The CEO told them that he'll stay on the platform and now the New York office wants to go on strike.

Threats to kill whitey are hate speech. And hate speech is never funny.

But as @telegraph reports, the BBC defended these comments.

Why? These comments don't advance equality — they cause division.

I've asked @BBC's Director General for an explanation.

Wow another layer to this attack. The 33 year old man who attacked an 84 year old female Trump voter is a US Postal Service employee. If he was willing to attack an elderly woman, what makes you think he wouldn't destroy your ballot if you voted for Trump? Not the only one!

THIS IS VERY IMPORTANT: Matt Hancock told me on @talkRADIO that the False Positive Rate of Covid tests in the community is "under 1%". Sounds good, doesn't it? WRONG!
An FPR of 0.8% when the virus prevalence is so low means that at least 91% of "Covid cases" are FALSE POSITIVES.

This is what I wrote nearly a year ago about #BlackLivesMatter, but the media kept giving the group a free pass.

> Given Assata Shakur's role as an icon and an inspiration to the 'Black Lives Matter' movement, is BLM really about addressing police brutality, or is it about the re-emergence of a militant leftist revolutionary movement that, with the aid of billionaires like George Soros, who has funded coups overseas, intends to use violence to change society?
> If that is indeed the case, 'Black Lives Matter' cannot be described as anything other than a domestic terrorist organization

Companies respond to "boycotts" for free advertising. It's quite monumentally mercenary.

> Matt Walsh @MattWalshBlog
> Why do companies freak out about "boycotts"? Nobody is actually boycotting anyone. There hasn't been a real boycott in this country since Montgomery. Do you think anyone is changing their consumption habits in accordance with the trendy new boycott of the week? No. It's all talk.

In 2019 in the U.S., more whites than blacks were killed by police, despite blacks being significantly more likely to be armed.

The entire premise of this charade is completely fraudulent.

BLM activists have just blocked Oxford Circus and stopped all cars. And guess what the police are doing.

Nope, they're not shutting down this illegal protest. They've just stood there watching them.

A new poll has revealed that the vast majority of people in Britain are happy for the government mandated lockdown to continue, with just 4 percent expressing a desire to see it lifted immediately.

To be fair, lifting the lockdown completely might be a bit silly, easing it quite a bit sure

This is appalling. It appears that the 10pm pub and restaurant curfew was decided on the hoof without any evidence.

Source: The Times

> The Scientific Advisory Group for Emergencies did not model the effect of a 10pm curfew, with key members saying there was no evidence that it would be effective. Nor was the behavioural science sub-group consulted about how people would react to early closing.

This is what I wrote nearly a year ago about #BlackLivesMatter, but the media kept giving the group a free pass.

> Given Assata Shakur's role as an icon and an inspiration to the 'Black Lives Matter' movement, is BLM really about addressing police brutality, or is it about the re-emergence of a militant leftist revolutionary movement that, with the aid of billionaires like George Soros, who has funded coups overseas, intends to use violence to change society?

A new poll has revealed that the vast majority of people in Britain are happy for the government mandated lockdown to continue, with just 4 percent expressing a desire to see it lifted immediately

This is what I wrote nearly a year ago about #BlackLivesMatter, but the media kept giving the group a free pass.

> Given Assata Shakur's role as an icon and an inspiration to the 'Black Lives Matter' movement, is BLM really about addressing police brutality, or is it about the re-emergence of a militant leftist revolutionary movement that, with the aid of billionaires like George Soros, who has funded coups overseas, intends to use violence to change society?
> If that is indeed the case, 'Black Lives Matter' cannot be described as anything other than a domestic terrorist organization

So now we know there was no research done and the 10pm pub curfew is arbitrary. This is why we need debate, not rule by ministerial decree.

> The Scientific Advisory Group for Emergencies did not model the effect of a 10pm curfew, with key members saying there was no evidence that it would be effective. Nor was the behavioural science sub-group consulted about how people would react to early closing.

Rent a-mob COVID enforcers are now literally peering through windows and letterboxes.

Did you ever think you'd see this in the UK?

The Pub Stasi have arrived

You obviously missed the point that they are looking through pub windows to falsely imply they are doing it to people's homes. Still at least you get your £5 for spanking out a few lines.

That time when ISIS announced its plan to recruit social justice warriors because they broadly share the same goals.

European Muslims allying with Left-wing Activists:

A growing population of left-winged activists (people who are against; human/animal abuses, Zionism, and Austerity measures etc) look upto the Muslims as a force who are strong enough to fight against the injustices of the world. It seems from the article below that many of these people (who are sometimes part of Anonymous and Anarchy movements) will ally with the Muslims to fight against the neo-Nazis' and rich politicians. They will give intelligence, share weapons and do undercover work for the Muslims to pave the way for the conquest of Rome

How will this happen?

If you have ever been at a pro-Palestine / anti-Israel protest, you will see many activists who are not even Muslims who are supportive of what Muslims are calling for (the fall of Zionism). It is most likely here that connections between Muslims and Left-wing activists will be made, and a portion from them will realise that protests are not effective, and that armed combat is the alternative. So they will start to work together in small cells of groups to fight and sabotage against the 'financial elite'

The English pub isn't just a place that sells booze.

It's an underpinning, inherent, integral part of communal English identity.

By attacking the pubs with this COVID bullshit, they're attacking our birthright and our sacred heritage.

A passenger who died on a bus in China tested positive for a completely different virus than COVID-19 because he ate rats.

The media is downplaying the risk. Next month, they'll probably call anyone who says 'don't eat rats' racist.

I'm getting déjà vu.

Guess what the new tax environment produced under Trump? The best economy in American history because rich people spent more $ on their businesses, new ventures and on wages to compete to hire the best people It works Is it perfect? No. We can and will make it better over time

I feel terrible for pub, restaurant and bar owners who have spent months trying to get back on their feet and are now faced with this silly curfew.

The backlash has rightly been significant.

It isn't a sign of weakness for Govt to admit they got it wrong, I'd respect it more.

The World Health Organization has long encouraged mass tourism and said closing borders wouldn't stop the spread of Covid-19. A New York Times investigation found this policy was never based on science, but instead on politics and economics. nyti.ms/33NUKp

The "soul of this nation" isn't a bunch of criminals rioting, burning and looting.

The very same criminals you refuse to disavow.

It's a battle you must lose.

A passenger who died on a bus in China tested positive for a completely different virus than COVID-19 because he ate rats.

The media is downplaying the risk. Next month, they'll probably call anyone who says 'don't eat rats' racist.

I'm getting déjà vu.

Dayton mass shooter was an anti-Trump "leftist" who said "I want socialism" and who tweeted "kill every fascist". These are his words.

El Paso mass shooter was a right wing extremist.

Political extremism is a major problem for both right & left.

Can we at least agree on this?

The fact that the absurd "5G causes coronavirus" conspiracy theory is raging through the UK is yet more proof that Facebook's war on "fake news" was never about combating harmful conspiracy theories, it was about censoring right-wing political opinions.

The fact that the absurd "5G causes coronavirus" conspiracy theory is raging through the UK is yet more proof that Facebook's war on "fake news" was never about combating harmful conspiracy theories, it was about censoring right-wing political opinions.

We were told lockdown & social distancing were necessary to "return to normal."

Fair enough.

Now they're telling us we may never return to normal.

Then what have we been doing for the past month?

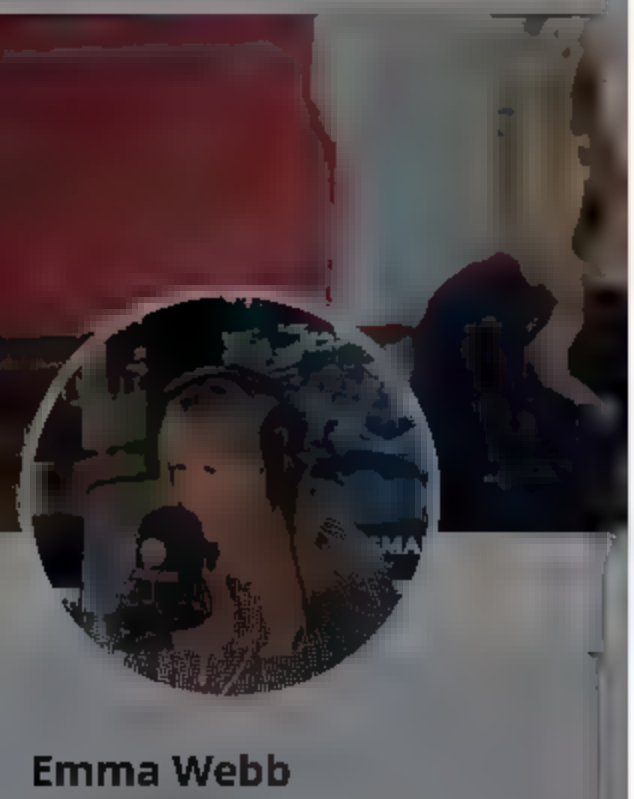
We are looking for 2 new housemates for a beautiful house of queer black women and non-binary people in the heart of Lewisham (5 minute walk from the station). 2 double bedrooms, one with access directly into the garden. We are prioritising Black people in our search.

* Price: Rent is 550pcm not including bills, bills are round 60 a month. The house is under a private landlord, he's super lovely and open and there's no hidden fees or anything. The deposit will be 1 months rent (£550)



* Move in date: The move in date is w/c 12th October. Can be flexible and the tenancy will be Another discriminatory housing advert, sent to me by a friend - identities covered, of course.

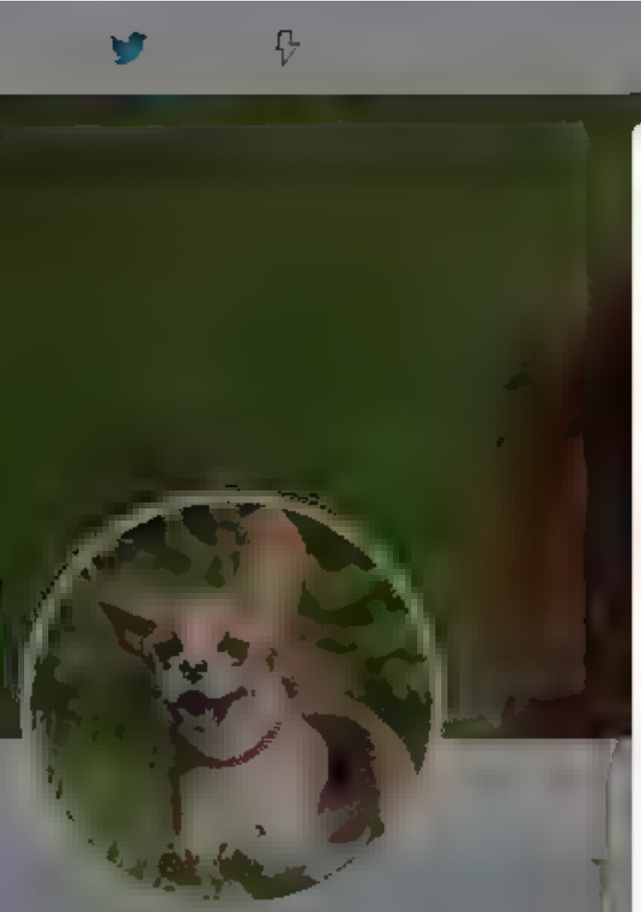
"Communists only" "Queer Person of Colour (?) preferred". May wish to consider astrological compatibility. Must be "down for the revolution"

18 m ·



we have another space going in our house! from september!!! QPOC preferred, communists only, dm me pls this is 's ad for it which sums it all up

we have a room ava lable in our flat! 6 people incl yourself! £590 + b l s (which are not monthly but i would guesstimate about £80-100 per month) lovely flat in bow east london we have a shared canal side garden near to the dlr which is free to use and closest underground is mi e end station

we are al queers and most of us are not white would be oking for someone who s not white (the person leaving is b ack so would also l ke to have another black person live w.th me!) currently have two capricorns, one sagittarius and one cancer (me)

we are a very commJnal house - our food is all shared, we cook meals for each other watch movies together, etc etc we are all pretty much socialists so u gtta be down for the revolution lol i am a plant mum so i have lots of plants, we a so have a shared l brary aswell lots of singing and hugs and twerking and arguments about hot celebrities

Hi, global flu is threatening too. It is the totally disproportionate response to this particular virus we find unacceptable. Fit kills young people as well as old, more deadly across all ages.

It's a gigantic deal that a virus that originated in China -- and spread globally due to the Chinese Communist Party's lies -- has now infected the president of the United States.

China has imperiled the leader of the free world.

Julian Assange: "I'm slowly dying here."

He is sedated, in solitary 23 hours a day.

He's in a prison meant for dangerous criminals & terrorists.

All for the crime of journalism.

If the Chinese had done this to a dissident, there'd be outrage.

Where are the protests?

Julian Assange is still dying in prison for the crime of doing journalism and virtually no journalist on the planet cares.

They're too obsessed with defaming and deplatforming their ideological enemies because journalism is dead.

And so might Julian Assange be pretty soon.

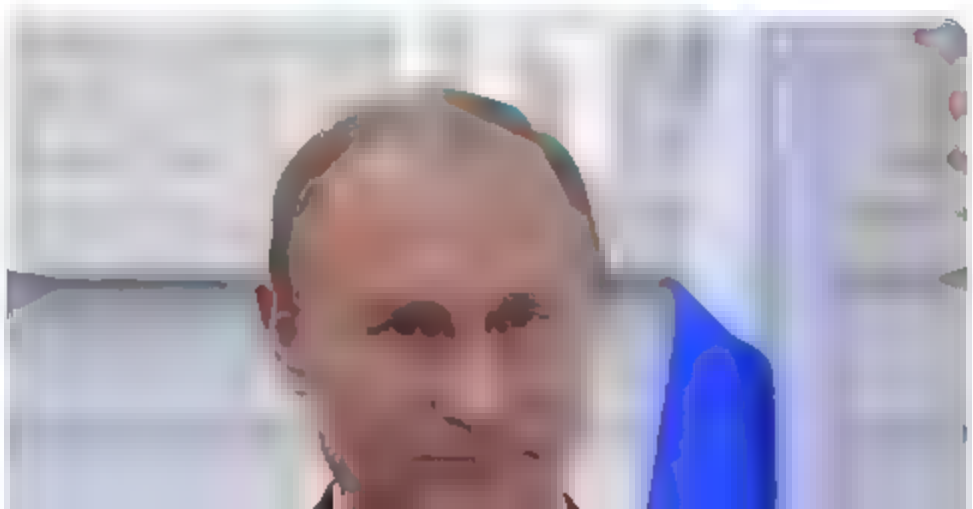
Since much of the media is now centred around generating outrage and deplatforming dissent, "journalists" don't have to worry about being targeted by the establishment because they no longer do actual journalism.



That's why they're all cheering Assange's arrest today.

Tucker is right.

Jordan Weissmann @JWeissmann

Watching Tucker Carlson right now and it is, as expected, mind bending. He's arguing that saying Trump was irresponsible for not wearing a mask is like saying a woman deserved to be sexually assaulted because she was dressed provocatively

You're right, this is terrible.

Almost as bad as encouraging tens of thousands of people to gather in close proximity for protests in major cities in the middle of a pandemic.

Who would do that?

Those blaiming Trump for holding a "superspreader" event at the White House are the same people who enthusiastically encouraged tens of thousands of protesters to gather in close proximity in major cities for the past 4 months.

If this thread had been about Biden catching corona and 'faking' it, the media would have a field day denouncing 'wild QAnon-style conspiracy theories'.

But his is now a dominant narrative being pushed by the left.

Conspiracy theories - "it's OK when we do it."

> Michael Moore @MMFlint
> The lying continues. They claim Trump has only "mild symptoms." So why hasn't he sent out a single tweet? Trump tweeted at me (an RT) yesterday, hours before he tweeted he had Covid. Something has to be very, very wrong for there to be no tweets for 15 hours... a record

I think leftists are gonna find out that sick, callous celebrations of people they don't like catching potentially deadly viruses translates well for dopamine and retweets, but not for swaying undecided voters in middle America.

In an otherwise slow news weekend, mass media is downplaying #IranProtests or regurgitating Iranian government propaganda.

This suggests uprising is authentic & not supported by US deep state.

Why is the media putting out fake news that Trump is on his deathbed? Do they think the videos of him looking OK and talking normally are staged?

Absurd.

Jon Cooper @joncoopertweets
don't want to be alarmist, but a GOP source just told me this. "Trump's condition is serious. He can go either way. Despite all the meds and the presidential care, they could lose him within 3 to 4 days. They're trying to make his condition look good to reassure his base."

I am starting to despise my husband

I feel like he ruined my whole fucking life. He wants to be a woman. After six f king years of being together he wants to be a woman. And he wants to be a lesbian as well. He wants us to be a lesbian couple.

And now I'm stuck at home 24/7 looking at my husband skip around in dresses and skirts while he wears fake silicone boobs under his bra. And the voice he puts on. Jesus Christ. I've tried so fucking hard to get him to go to therapy with me because our marriage is absolutely without a doubt FAILING but he doesn't want to. Doesn't think it's a good idea to have someone else involved. They just turn us against each other, he says. Hahahaha well fuck me then. I guess I'm just fucking stuck in my new miserable goddamn marriage with my husband who can't go a day without putting on a dress.

I'm so fucking done. I'm so f king AD t. And I want to have a happy marriage. One that's normal. One that doesn't make me so fucking miserable. I married a man. That's what I signed up. That's gone now.

Fuck. Rant over. Sorry for the swearing.

The same people who lectured us for the past 6 months about taking COVID seriously and not engaging in 'conspiracy theories' are now, after Trump caught it, not taking COVID seriously and engaging in conspiracy theories.

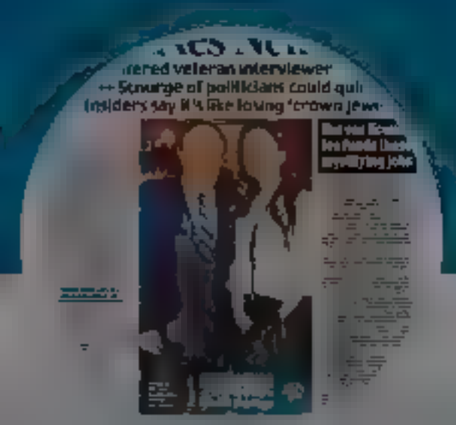
This aged badly.



Jon Cooper ✓ @joncoopertweets

don't want to be alarmist, but a GOP source just told me this: "Trump's condition is serious. He can go either way. Despite all the meds and the presidential care, they could lose him within 3 to 4 days. They're trying to make his condition look good to reassure his base."

There's a whole bunch of people on Twitter, normally hugely critical of Boris Johnson, the Tories and the government, but 100% behind every government lockdown measure and even the now clearly unlikely Whitty-Vallance 50,000 cases graph. Who can explain this strange phenomenon?

Neighbor said Texas church gunman was a "lunatic" who shot their pet deer.

[redacted]

We used to be neighbors with this lunatic... The people who bought our property have recently had trouble with him shooting his AR close to the property line during their granddaughters birthday... unfortunately I was FB friends with him and we went to the same high school

[redacted]

[redacted] I don't know for sure. He shot some of our "pet" fallow deer and we spoke to his step father about it. They didn't do anything of course. He wore black clothing and just seemed off. From what I know he has a history of abusing women and children.

[redacted]

The church is about 3 5 miles from my house. I still can't believe this happened

Wow! How did this happen? I'll explain:

The poll sampled 35% DEM, 27% REP, 38% IND. So a DEM+8 vs REP.

The last poll sampled DEM+3.

So they changed the weighting by 5 points and now report "OMG BIDEN IS UP ANOTHER 6 POINTS FROM THE LAST POLL!"

It's a fraudulent industry.

I don't want to be alarmist, but a GOP source just told me this: "Trump's condition is serious. He can go either way. Despite all the meds and the president's care they could lose him within 3 to 4 days. They're trying to make his condition look good to reassure his base."

If this thread had been about Biden catching corona and 'faking' it, the media would have a field day denouncing 'wild QAnon-style conspiracy theories'.

But his is now a dominant narrative being pushed by the left.

Conspiracy theories - "it's OK when we do it."

> Michael Moore @MMFlint
> The lying continues. They claim Trump has only "mild symptoms." So why hasn't he sent out a single tweet? Trump tweeted at me (an RT) yesterday, hours before he tweeted he had Covid. Something has to be very, very wrong for there to be no tweets for 15 hours. a record

According to Apple, if you don't respect people with different views, you will be banned.
Does this mean it is necessary to respect people who advocate child marriage and honor killings simply to have a platform?
"Podcasts that violate these guidelines are removed from our directory making them no longer searchable or available for download or streaming. We believe in representing a wide range of views, so long as people are respectful to those with differing opinions."
Apple confirmed the accuracy of its statement to CNN.

Incredible: @Twitter is now adding a content warning to my @WSJ op-ed, which was deeply researched and sourced with original documents. Apparently, "telling the truth about critical race theory" is heavily discouraged during this election season.

dismiss the president's executive order on critical race theory, calling it "sensitivity training."

In the @WSJ, I explain why they're wrong —and how CRT is deeply ideological and destructive to the public good.

Imagine the saltiness this will generate. Trump is correct. We need to learn to live with this and not let it deform our entire society.

Dayton mass shooter was an anti-Trump "leftist" who said "I want socialism" and who tweeted "kill every fascist". These are his words.

El Paso mass shooter was a right wing extremist.

Political extremism is a major problem for both right & left.

Can we at least agree on this?

The fact that the absurd "5G causes coronavirus" conspiracy theory is raging through the UK is yet more proof that Facebook's war on "fake news" was never about combating harmful conspiracy theories, it was about censoring right-wing political opinions.

Weinstein victim: "I know that everybody—I mean everybody—in Hollywood knows that it's happening."

> De Cairnes, who was in her early thirties at the time, was already an established actress, but she wondered what would happen to younger and more vulnerable women in the same situation. Over the years, she said, she's heard similar accounts from friends. "I know that everybody—I mean everybody—in Hollywood knows that it's happening," de Cairnes said. "He's not even really hiding. I mean, the way he does it, so many people are involved and see what's happening. But everyone's too scared to say anything."

journalists covering the crisis have been arrested and targeted with violence, harassment, and intimidation. Governments have exerted control over content, revoked outlets' registrations, suspended printing of newspapers, denied press credentials, and limited independent questioning at press conferences. New legislation against spreading 'fake news' about the virus has been passed, while websites have been blocked and online articles or social media posts removed. The increased public need for impartial information during a pandemic makes such varied methods of suppression particularly egregious.

Tower Hamlets. Of course it's Tower Hamlets.

Christian child forced into Muslim foster care

Concern for girl who 'had cross removed and was encouraged to learn Arabic'

Andrew Norfolk
Chief Investigative Reporter

A white Christian child was taken from her family and forced to live with a Muslim-identity foster carer in a Jewish area where she was allegedly encouraged to learn Arabic.

The five-year-old girl, a native English speaker, has spent the past six months in the care of two Muslim households in London. The foster placements were made against the wishes of the girl's family by the scandal-ridden borough of Tower Hamlets.

In confidential local authority reports seen by The Times a social services supervisor describes the child sobbing and begging not to be returned to the foster carer's home because "they don't speak English".

The report states that the supervisor heard the girl, who at times was "very distressed", claiming that the foster carer had removed her cross, taken away a Christian book and also suggested that she should learn Arabic. It is understood that the child told her mother that when she was given her favourite Italian food to take home the foster carer would not allow her to eat it because the carbonara meat contained bacon.

More recently, the girl is said to have told her mother that "Christmas and Easter are stupid" and that "Europeans murder Jesus and celebrate Pesach".

In any decision regarding a foster placement, local authorities are required to give due consideration to the child's religious persuasion, racial origin and cultural and linguistic background.

Tower Hamlets refused to respond on request, explaining that it had chosen a placement with "English-speaking Orthodox Jewish foster carers who are matching new household where they are available to understand the language spoken by the family".

The five-year-old girl, whose identity The Times is protecting, with her present foster carer. Her mother is said to be horrified by the alien cultural, religious and linguistic environment in which her daughter has spent the past six months.

The girl, who has lived for four months, is believed to have worn a niqab outside the family home. She cared at her present foster placement wears a burka fully concealing her face when she is accompanied by adult men.

The wearing of a niqab or burka generally indicates adherence to a conservative Salafi-influenced interpretation of Islam that is often contemptuous of liberal western values.

To protect the child, The Times has chosen not to identify her or the unusual circumstances that led to her being taken into care earlier this year. The girl's mother is said by friends to have been horrified by the alien cultural, religious and linguistic environment in which her daughter has spent the past six months.

This is a five-year-old white girl. She was born in this country, speaks English as her first language, loves football, holds a British passport and was christened in a church," said a friend. She already suffers the huge trauma of being forcibly separated from her family. She needs surroundings in which she'll feel secure and loved, instead she's trapped in a world where everything feels foreign and unfamiliar. That must be scary for a young child.

In some areas of the country a long-standing shortage of foster carers from ethnic minority backgrounds frequently results in non-white children being, as a result, placed with white British foster parents. It is an issue recognised by the Government.

Published fostering statistics for England show that of the 51,800 children who were in foster placements last year, 39,500 (77 per cent) were white, as were 5,500 (83 per cent) of the 6,400 approved foster carers.

The 2011 national census found that 81 per cent of England's population was white British, falling to 45 per cent in London and 31 per cent in Outer-ly Tower Hamlets. Across the capital last year 39 per cent of foster children and

Who made you the COVID police?

You're a BBC journalist.

Harassing ordinary people in the street isn't journalism.

Lol, I wrote this article just 2 days ago.

Today, the FBI dropped their own "October surprise" to interfere in the election with this obviously informant-led "plot" to target Gov. Gretchen Whitmer.

FBI has been sitting on the case for months.

I called this exactly!

Let me just how bad things are right now, it's 4.20pm on a Friday, I'd normally have a good few tables here, from elderly patrons to school mums & kids.

I have 0 customers @TheOwlHighBeach pub

There's 2 kitchen staff and two front of house on.

The world was less insane and everyone was happier before any of these things existed.

- Social media
- Smartphones
- Identity politics
- Cancel culture
- Hyper-sexualization
- 24 hour news cycles

None of these things have meaningfully improved quality or authenticity of life.

With governments mandating the wearing of face masks left right and centre, and social distancing plastic pods popping up everywhere, it isn't too much of a jump to image a future where we are all forced to walk around in our own bubbles, literally.

The tide is turning on all this, front pages of newspapers, doctors & scientists calling the danger of Lockdowns & restrictions out. Mass unemployment across many sectors and household name companies.

This cannot go on, simply is not proportionate to the population as a whole.

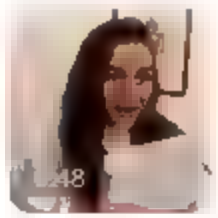
Considering how outraged the media has been over potential election interference for four years it's amazing that no one is covering Steve Scully (the 2nd debate moderator) supposedly getting his Twitter account hacked.



Has he filed an FBI report yet? If not, why not?

Fact Check: Is Presidential Debate Moderator Steve Scully a 'Never Trumper?'

BY JOCELYN GRZESZCZAK ON 10/9/20 AT 4:22 PM EDT

Scully also once tweeted during the 2016 election a link to a Times op-ed "No, Not Trump. Not Ever." He served as a backup moderator for all of the fall debates that year

> No. Not Trump. Not Ever https://t.co/PFvHTeQSZL
> Steve Scully (@SteveScully) March 18, 2016

Rating: Mostly False

While Scully did once work for Democratic politicians including Biden, like Trump claimed to Hannity, there is not enough evidence to support the president's assertion that Scully is part of the "Never Trump" movement.

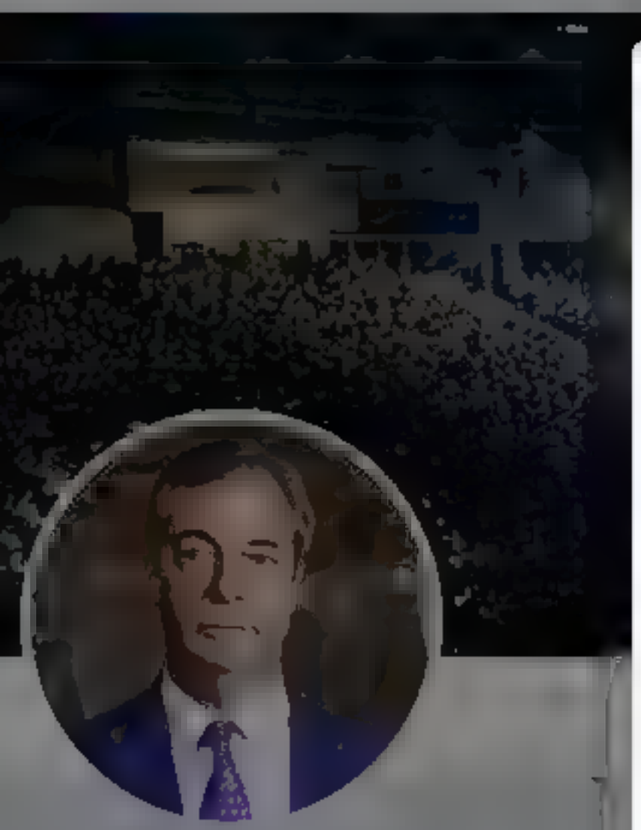
So apparently, now our government is telling us that corona knows the difference between pubs and restaurants, and avoids restaurants.



Pubs in 'highest risk' areas closed, restaurants remain open.

Makes perfect sense.

Small businesses across the UK & America are dying en masse.

This is another reason why multinational corporations support government lockdown policies.

More competition swallowed up.

You'd think liberals would care.

Nope!

Giant companies creating onerous monopolies is good!

Oh no, that didn't work, how about another. And another.

Until when?

Zero covid?

A vaccine that could be years away?

Livelihoods ruined, untold deaths from untreated illnesses, poverty, hunger, atomization, depression.

When does it end?

NHS England says median age of COVID-19 victims is 82 and 95% have at least one other serious disease (eg dementia, cancer etc). Yet Labour want to lock down everyone. And when that finishes, we end up poorer, more depressed and lonelier - and the virus returns. Brilliant.

The power of Facebook -- due to its sheer size, integration and gobbling up of competitors -- was already way larger than any democracy should tolerate.

Now that they're actively controlling the news and discourse, it's beyond just a menace. It's a terrifying threat.

The NY Post story was a minor, largely redundant report even if the docs are real.

The extreme act of censorship by tech giants to suppress it, cheered on by journalists, is a major story of historic proportions.

They always had this undemocratic power; today they used it.

The Hunter Biden story would have lasted 6-12 hours at most. Dude is a dirt bag, it's not kind of story that would have impact.

Big Tech's decision to cross the Rubicon for that story is far more interesting, relevant, and historically significant.

I intend to move forward with an @FCC rulemaking to clarify the meaning of #Section230.

Read my full statement below.

STATEMENT OF CHAIRMAN PAI ON SECTION 230

WASHINGTON October 15 2020—Federal Communications Commission Chairman Ajit Pai issued the following statement today on Section 230 of the Communications Act.

Members of all three branches of the federal government have expressed serious concerns about the prevailing interpretation of the immunity set forth in Section 230 of the Communications Act. There is bipartisan support in Congress to reform the law. The U S Department of Commerce has petitioned the Commission to clarify ambiguities in section 230 ' And earlier this week, U S Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas pointed out that courts have relied upon 'policy and purpose arguments to grant sweeping protections to Internet platforms' that appear to go far beyond the actual text of the provision

' As elected officials consider whether to change the law the question remains: What does Section 230 currently mean? Many advance an overly broad interpretation that in some cases shields social media companies from consumer protection laws in a way that has no basis in the text of Section 230 The Commission s General Counsel has informed me that the FCC has the legal authority to interpret Section 230 Consistent with this advice. I intend to move forward with a rulemaking to clarify its meaning.

'Throughout my tenure at the Federal Communications Commission, I have favored regulatory parity. transparency and free expression Social media companies have a First Amendment right to free speech. But they do not have a First Amendment right to a special immunity denied to other media outlets, such as newspapers and broadcasters. '

This is why libertarians have become irrelevant in society.

The fact that the absurd "5G causes coronavirus" conspiracy theory is raging through the UK is yet more proof that Facebook's war on "fake news" was never about combating harmful conspiracy theories, it was about censoring right-wing political opinions.

Last night a tweet from Steve Scully, C-SPAN's Political Editor, appeared on his timeline communicating with Kristen Soltis Anderson. Steve Scully did not originate the tweet and believes his account has been hacked. The Commission on Presidential Debates has stated publicly that the tweet was not sent by Scully himself and is investigating with the help of authorities. When additional information is available, we will release it.

Remember when Google had that meeting in 2016 after Trump won and vowed to never let it happen again?

Have you tried finding anything on Google in the last 2 years that doesn't amplify Democrat talking points?

Now that multiple sources are confirming coronavirus came out of the Wuhan lab, it's time to compile a list of mainstream media outlets who repeatedly for weeks said it was a 'dangerous fake news conspiracy theory' to even suggest this.

Wrong again.

This is completely misleading.

He was tucking in his shirt after removing the body microphone he was wearing for the interview.

Cohen then runs into the room and says "She is 15, she is too old for you".

This was all part of the skit for his new comedy film.

Zac Petkanas @Zac_Petkanas
So to recap

A senior Trump advisor was just caught alone in a hotel room fondling himself in front of a woman he thought was 15.

Borat tried to make it look like Giuliani was soliciting sex from a minor by running into a room claiming a 24/25-year old actress was 15. In reality, he wasn't even soliciting sex from her. The Democrats will sink to incredible lows to take down anyone who attacks Biden.

The idea that the state must feed your children is inextricable from the idea that the state owns your children, decides what to teach them, and is their primary guardian. It's an attack on the family cynically veiled in emotivist arguments about starving kids. Don't fall for it.

Dayton mass shooter was an anti-Trump "leftist" who said "I want socialism" and who tweeted "kill every fascist". These are his words.

El Paso mass shooter was a right wing extremist.

Political extremism is a major problem for both right & left.

Can we at least agree on this?

Interesting which "non essential" items Welsh Government have said need to be removed from sale. It would seem socks and tights are not essential but Halloween decorations, Christmas crackers and advent calendars are?

"Again, the new oligarchy must more and more base its claim to plan us on its claim to knowledge. If we are to be mothered, mother must know best. This means they must increasingly rely on the advice of scientists, till in the end the politicians proper become merely the scientists' puppets. Technocracy is the form to which a planned society must tend. Now I dread specialists in power because they are specialists speaking outside their special subjects. Let scientists tell us about science. But government involves questions about the good for mankind, and justice, and what things are worth having at what price; and on these a scientific training gives a person's opinion no added value. Let the doctor tell me I shall die unless I do so, and so; but whether life is worth having on those terms is no more a question for them than for any other person."

Protesters and police clash in Philadelphia after officers shoot and kill local Black man

Protesters gathered in West Philadelphia after police fatally shot 27-year-old Walter Wallace Jr. on Monday afternoon. According to video footage from the scene, Wallace was seen holding a knife and was about 10 feet away from the officers when they fired. Philadelphia Mayor Jim Kenney and Police Commissioner Danielle Outlaw released statements after the incident promising a "full investigation" and confirmed that they will meet with members of the community and Wallace's family.

THE UK LOCKDOWN CUCK: This one goes out to all my followers trapped on that hideous island.

The UK Lockdown Cuck

"WTF you killed my Grandparenteriens!"

"The Science" says X!

Enjoys working from home, doesn't want to go back to 7am commutes

Enjoyed lockdown vibe of clapping for the NHS and watching an old man do laps of his garden

Wears mask 24/7, even when alone inside their own home

Framed photo of Captain Tom on mantlepiece

Selective memory allows them to easily forget when the scientific advice was anti-masks in March

Comments "COVIDiots" on videos of people who are not socially distancing or wearing masks

Has vein of Mask The Week memes and Britpop festivals prepared for lockdown

Considers themselves a life-saving hero

"This virus kills both YOUNG and OLD!"

Informs the authorities when family, friends, neighbours and colleagues see someone from outside their household

Obsession with graphs and curves, particularly alarmist ones

Makes Dominic Cummings eye test jokes

Longs for the time when everyone was forbidden from having sex or friends, when they didn't feel left out anymore

Londoners now argue that the street isn't as high end as rodeo drive so it's totally ok that broad daylight stabbings happen

These cowards live in complete denial of facts.

London is finished

Welcome to London.

Families buy groceries completely unphased by the man stabbed to death just outside of the glass.

Where I come from. If someone gets murdered, it's national news.

Why would anyone live in London (or any of these high random crime rate locations) is beyond me

Incredible traffic jam in Paris as people try to leave the city before 9 pm curfew and before confinement begins at midnight. Traffic is barely moving in every direction as far as the eye can see. Lots of honking and frustrated drivers.

How are we still at the point where men are trying to split the bill on a first date?

What level of bullshit feminist brainwashing made you think this was OK?

Pay the fucking bill.

The British media and the left spent over a week trying to get one guy fired because he violated "social distancing" to arrange urgent care for his child.

Thousands of people do the same in the middle of London and the only reporting on it is gushingly positive.

Dr. Robert Epstein says Google helped shift 2 to 3 million votes in Hillary Clinton's favor with bias search algorithms.

Big Tech censorship is election meddling.

Epstein is now working on large scale monitoring "to detect manipulations on the part of these tech companies".

"I actually set up a small scale monitoring system which worked beautifully, and which looked at bias in search rankings that people were seeing before the 2016 election looking at Google Bing and Yahoo, not just Google I was able to preserve more than 13 000 election related searches, more than 90,000 web pages to which the search results linked," he explained

I was able to analyze this looking for bias toward either Clinton or Trump in search results. I found a very clear bias toward Mrs. Clinton, enough to shift possibly 2 or 3 million votes without anyone knowing that this was occurring because you can t see bias in search rankings You have to set up monitoring systems that allow you to look over people s shoulders as they are using their computers and mobile devices. It s kind of like what he Nielsen company does when it monitors people s television watching " he said

I m now working with some business partners some academic colleagues actually on three continents We are in the process of building large scale monitoring systems. Eventually when these systems are in place we will be able to detect manipulations on the part of these tech companies in some cases probably within minutes of when they try something he anticipated.

Reminder: Facebook is shutting down pages with the "help" of the Kissinger, Chertoff and Hayden fronted Atlantic Council.

In other words, Big Tech working with the deep state to silence dissent.

But yeah, keep on claiming it's just a "muh private company" argument.

> Facebook was "helped" in its efforts to wipe out these dangerous memes by the Atlantic Council, on whose board you'll find confidence-inspiring names like Henry Kissinger, former CIA chief Michael Hayden, former acting CIA head Michael Morell, former Homeland Security chief Michael Chertoff. (The latter is the guy who used to bring you the insane color coded terror threat level system.)

CNN has published an article which literally claims Infowars is "complicit in domestic terror" - with zero evidence to back up such an incendiary claim.

This is why CNN is fake news.

edition.cnn.com/2018/08/06/opi ...

This new decision is a step forward in recognizing that hate outlets, such as InfoWars, are complicit in domestic terror and a threat to Muslim Americans, like myself who have been the target of online assaults and threats.

Here's where the "hate speech" argument falls flat.

They deleted Alex Jones from LinkedIn. LinkedIn! Unpersonned him 1984-style, Communist Chinese social credit score-style.

He uploaded zero content to LinkedIn.

This was a politically motivated, coordinated purge by Big Tech.

Karl Marx was a virulent racist and an anti-Semite.

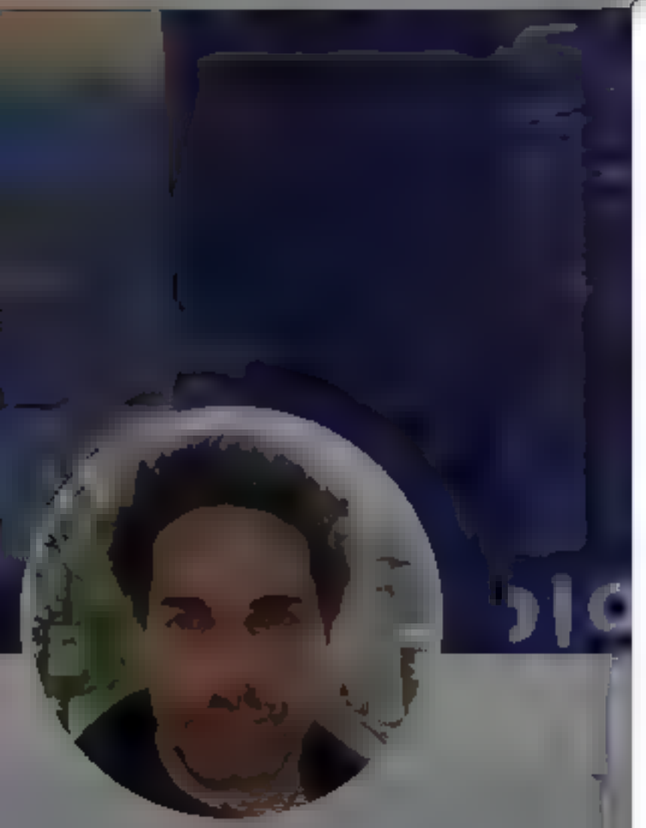
All People Are Equal, but Some People Are More Equal Than Others



It's hard to argue with Walter Williams, the leading economist and well-known black conservative, when he states flatly that "Marx was an out and out racist and anti-Semite."* The founding father of communism freely dispensed choice epithets aimed at blacks and Jews (despite the fact that Marx himself was an ethnic Jew).* Marx referred to the labor organizer Ferdinand Lassalle as a "greasy Jew," "the little kike," "water-polack Jew," "Jew Braun," and "the Jewish Nigger" and wrote to Engels, "It is now perfectly clear to me that, as the shape of his head and the growth of his hair indicates, he is descended from the Negroes who joined in Moses' flight from Egypt" (Lassalle's "cranial formation," said Marx, a proud Darwinist, was the giveaway—or perhaps "his mother or grandmother on the father's side was crossed with a nigger." Marx concluded, "This union of Jew and German on a Negro base was bound to produce an extraordinary hybrid."* And Engels wasn't much better: he deduced with scientific accuracy that Marx's son-in-law Paul Lafargue possessed "one-eighth or one-twelfth nigger blood." In 1887 Lafargue was a political candidate for a council seat in a Paris district that contained a zoo. In an April 1887 letter to Paul's wife, Laura, Engels opined, "Being in his quality as a nigger a degree nearer to the rest of the animal kingdom than the rest of us, he is undoubtedly the most appropriate representative of that district."* No doubt Engels and Marx had a good chortle over that one.

This lockdown will be worse than last time: 1/. It will be dark, cold and wet not sunny and warm; 2/. Many more of us now know govt and advisors haven't a clue ; 3/. 80% furlough gone ; 4/. Mental health toll much more severe. All so futile.

The PM suggests we could soon be in a situation where doctors and nurses would have to decide who to treat. The truth is Government made this decision back in March, when non-Covid patients had their operations and treatments cancelled. And it's happening again.

Hi Paul,

I'm a tech columnist for the NYT, and am writing about the strategies people use to get their content listed in search results on Google/FB/YouTube after big breaking news stories. I noticed your tweets were highly ranked in Google's search results for the Texas church shooting, and would love to speak to you about that. Is there a good time to chat?

Paul Joseph Watson
To: [illegible]

There is absolutely no strategy, I wasn't even aware of it until verified libtards started bitching about it on Twitter and it got picked up by media outlets.

Well done to the public and the police on the fast response on London Bridge but was there any need for the police to kill the man? They could have easily arrested him but murdered him instead. State murder doesn't sit well with me.

When you're the rape capital of Europe but get outraged over "sexist" street names. Had to be Sweden.

Stockholm gets a new name

Published February 14 2018 at 11 16

DOMESTIC The Royal Institute of Technology, KTH, has agreed with the politicians in Stockholm to change the name of a street in the university campus area. The street name is considered to be "sexist", writes Hela Stockholm

At the end of last year a professor of KTH concluded that the street name of Osquldа was an expression of so-called sexism

Like the article on Facebook

Osquldа is a traditional term of female technology in student culture Male technologists are called Osquar instead

"The name originates from a student culture with sexist elements, and is perceived as an expression of abus ve values about women," KTH wrote to the municipality according to Whole Stockholm

Now KTH and the politicians in the city council have agreed to rename the street population) that cannot fail to have significant repercussions. Demographic studies show ethnic Swedes becoming a minority in Sweden within the lifespan of most people currently alive which raises the fascinating question of whether Swedish identity has any chance of surviving this generation. This question will also have to be faced by every other Western European country. Europe was proud of having international cities but how will the public react to having 'international countries'? How will we think of ourselves? And who and what will 'we' be?

THE FEELING THAT THE STORY HAS RUN OUT

This really underscores why CNN is hated by such a huge number of people.

They doxx Trump supporters, harass old ladies outside their homes and lobby big corporations to silence independent voices.

People are sick of their bullying, lies and intimidation.

Why would polls of lockdown support be any more accurate, and any less manipulated, than any other "fact" we are being presented with right now? Why would you trust a government poll? You think the government is impartial on this?

Hugely important. This is the key graph from Sat night lockdown press conference, shown to a primetime TV audience of 15m. It suggests up to 4,000 daily Covid deaths. But now, gvt is backtracking - refusing to explain the graphs, or publish the studies they came from.

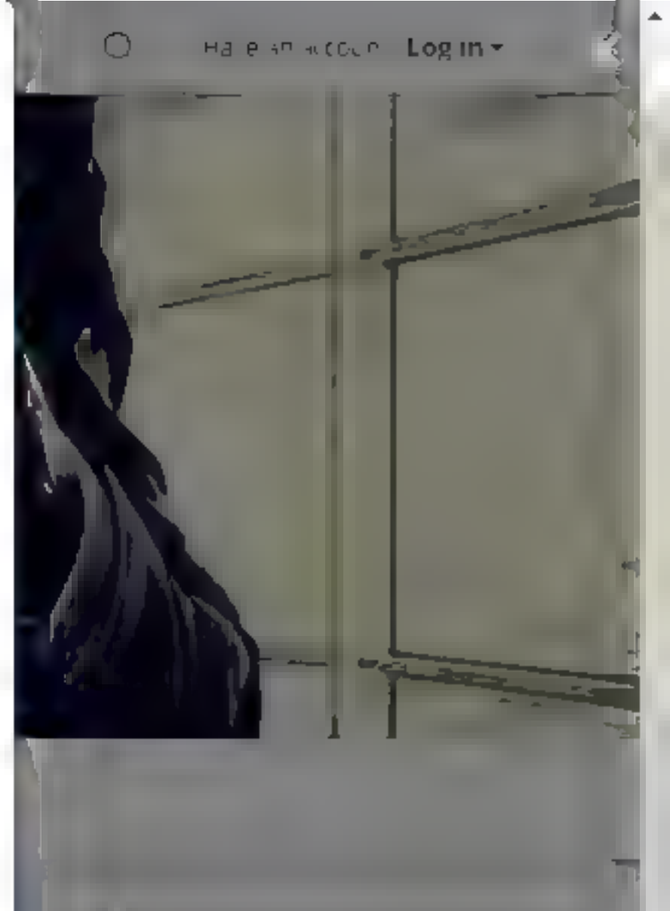
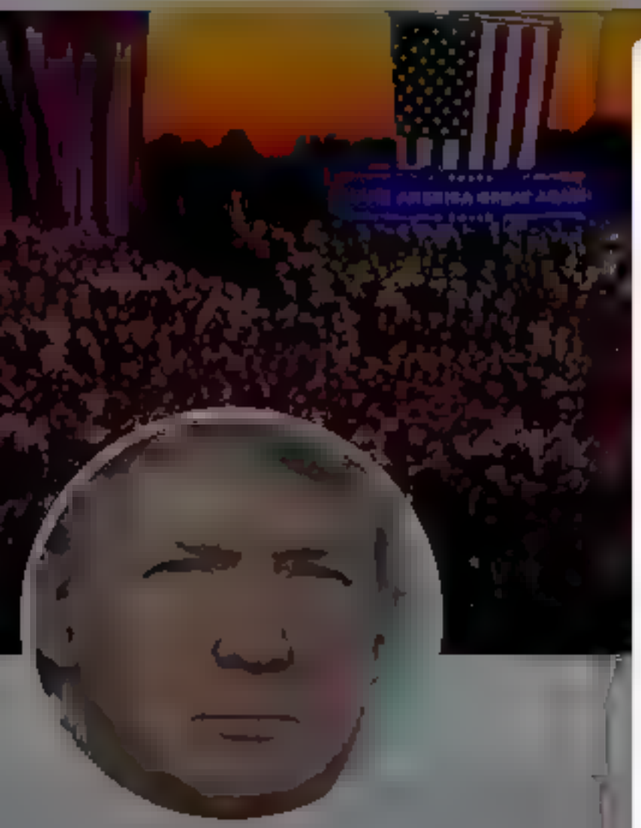
The largest coalition of MP's ever to sign a common nomination to the Nobel Piece Price just nominated Donald Trump. MP's from a total off 11 national parliaments nominated Trump for his and his administrations dedicated and hard work for peace all across the globe.

@POTUS



Representing millions of voters across Europe and elsewhere, our nomination seeks to illustrate the true diversity of a coalition in support of America's global leadership for peace and prosperity under President Donald J. Trump. Should one begin to survey the reasons for our nomination, one will find that the case for Trump is a compelling one. It is not the first time President Trump receives a nomination for this noble prize, however it is the first time a broad coalition unites across borders to do so.

President Trump's Abraham Accords, normalizing relations between Israel and several Arab nations such as the UAE, Sudan, and Bahrain alone, shortly followed by a promising economic partnership for peace between Kosovo and Serbia, has cemented our belief in America's global leadership for peace. As Europeans, our very special transatlantic relationship has proved to be one for peace in areas of great relevance for our own national concerns. Bringing a warm peace to the Balkans, a brighter future of hope in the Middle East, and first steps to reconciliation on the Korean peninsula, few world leaders have done more to build a better world for the Twenty-First century.



We all realize avoiding new conflicts alone is not enough for achieving peace. Yet, President Trump has shown the world that peace and prosperity is not only possible, but within reach. For the first time since a bitter Balkan conflict, relations recently seem to have reached a milestone worthy of our praise. As if the Trump administration's brokering of a new peace agreement between Israel and the United Arab Emirates was not enough, the promise of peace has inspired many more to join in. Bahrain, Sudan, and other Arab and Muslim states expected to follow their lead. A peace deal of historic proportions, we see the developments in the Middle East as one of the most significant diplomatic successes in years, if not decades.

As Europeans have neighbored a war-torn Middle East, we cannot overstate the importance of long-term peace and prosperity in the region. Proving that peace is possible, President Trump has acted to bridge divisions through the normalization of cooperation in areas where others have remained passive to the promise of peace. For his courage and commitment to the cause, we are confident these qualifications should meet the committee's expectations on any Nobel Prize nominee.

However surprising, President Trump's reconciliation in North and South Korea, too, has made the world a safer, more prosperous place. While there is still more to do, President Trump's search for peace has laid the groundwork for another historic peace that will continue to play a vital role in global and regional prosperity beyond his own White House years.

Very disappointing to see several articles in the Spectator (both US and UK editions) cucking out and endorsing Biden. Frankly pathetic behaviour. Can you imagine the New Statesman endorsing Trump?

2020 US PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION ODDS: DONALD TRUMP NOW FAVORITE TO WIN ELECTION

Just over two hours ago, Joe Biden's odds SUGGESTED HE HAD A MASSIVE 68.2% chance of winning the 2020 US election. However, early counts coming out of various states have caused the odds to dramatically shift.

Biden crashed from 1.8 to 1.54, back to 1.65

11 I'm loathe to form a strong conclusion yet, because Pennsylvania remains the state likely to determine the race and that favours Biden, but it looks a LOT closer than I expected. I cashed out a third of my pro-Biden position at 1.69

Betfair Exchange @BetfairExchange 44m

12 Texas is definitely worth focusing upon. Biden leads slightly with two-thirds of the state reporting.

Winning this would make Biden's troubles elsewhere irrelevant.

Bet here: btfr.co/170677 6

Betfair Exchange @BetfairExchange 26m

13 In one sense this feels like 2016 and the odds could flip to Trump any minute. However I don't think that will happen unless there's a sign of him winning Pennsylvania.

I do not think we're in for a quick result or early night.

Remember though he still has to stop Biden winning Michigan, Wisconsin and Pennsylvania. The Democrats still favourite in all three of those states

President @realDonaldTrump is up in Florida by almost 400,000 votes with more than 90% of precincts reporting. Why haven't networks called the race? It's a done deal and the refusal to recognize the obvious speaks volumes about the (lack of) objectivity of these outlets.

Once again, the media defamed anyone who even talked about the bio-lab in Wuhan as a fake news conspiracy theorist.

Now biological scientists from the prestigious South China University of Technology have concluded that coronavirus came from a bio-lab in Wuhan.

Retractions?

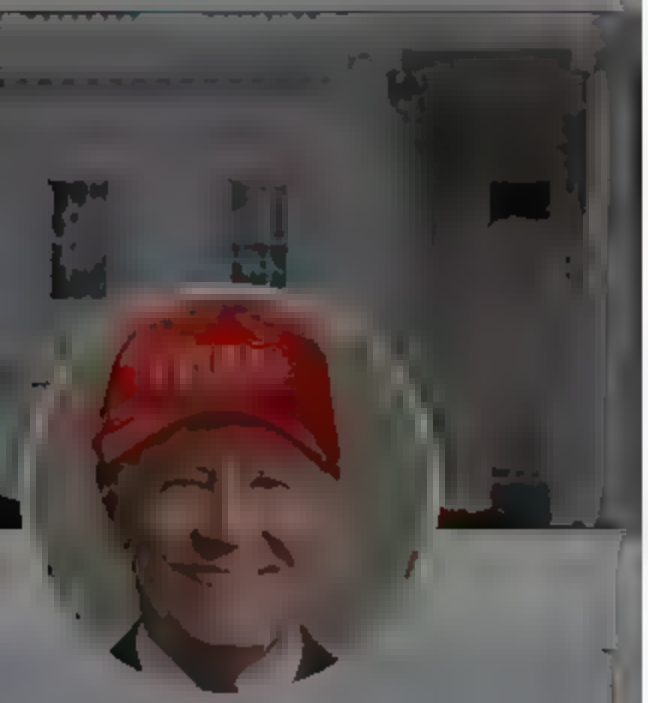
Coronavirus conspiracy theories

Any type of major world event that imperils a segment of the population is going to result in absurd pushes for real facts, and as such, coronavirus conspiracy theories are cropping up to try and explain what's "really going on.

In the case of the Wuhan virus, there are a number of alternate theories spreading through social media in both China and the West. Among other things, they allege that China created the coronavirus in Wuhan in a mysterious biolab, that U.S. researchers patented this strain of coronavirus to use as a weapon, that Bill Gates is somehow involved in the pandemic, or that China is suppressing how bad the virus really is.

Could China have created the coronavirus on purpose?

Conspiracy theorists, particularly on Reddit's r/conspiracy, are running with the idea that because China opened a maximum security biomedical research lab in Wuhan a few years earlier it must be connected to the viral outbreak—either through an accidental release of a pathogen or the purposeful testing of a weapon.



It's true that China opened its first biosafety level 4 laboratory in Wuhan in 2017 to study biological threats and pathogens, and that this is the only lab that can handle the coronavirus

Paul Joseph Watson

A biosafety level 4 laboratory that studies the "world's most dangerous pathogens" is based in Wuhan, the epicenter of the coronavirus outbreak in China, leading some to claim that the virus could have accidentally escaped the lab.

The idea that poll workers in America can't stay up for a few hours over their normal bedtime to fulfil their duty in counting votes for one of if not the most important election in U.S. history is pathetic.

In Europe, whenever there's an election, we stay up until 8am.

Weak.

The unanimous media narrative going into the election:

- Biden landslide.

- Trump would create "down ballot problem," and GOP would lose the Senate.

Regardless of how people try to spin this, last night was a repudiation of neoliberal and Never Trump "analysis."

Laura Loomer picked up almost 40% of the vote in a heavy Democrat district.

Republicans did not even run a candidate in 2018.

In 2016, the GOP candidate won 35% of the vote.

Loomer crushed, there's no way to downplay this result.

This is an unusual Presidency where bureaucrats try to bring it down via undemocratic means for 3 years and in the 4th year they devise "mail-in voting" and claim they can "keep counting" after election day for as long "as they need." If that is not suspicious what is?

All US mail takes 3 days to get to destination. Mail-in ballots should have arrived weeks and days ahead of election day. Why are they being deployed and counted late only "where it is needed"? Are they "reservoirs" for the opposition?

8 139 458

Walid Phares @WalidPhares 3h

There is no "we just found" these ballots after election day. There is "we had them and we are opening now". But for that to be legitimate you should have reported them before the election. The "I found them" business doesn't belong to a western liberal democracy

If it cannot be determined that a vote was cast before the deadline, it should be thrown out. This is incredibly obvious and should be utterly uncontroversial. Yet Pennsylvania is currently in the process of counting ballots that, for all it knows, were cast after election day.

1 Britain was the first to abolish slavery.

2 Our people literally risked their lives to free slaves in Africa.

3 We admit over 500,000 immigrants into the country every year.

4 We are routinely the only G7 country to meet our foreign aid commitment (£13B a year).
